EXPERIENCE

> GitHub Education, San Francisco, CA — GitHub Campus Expert

JUNE 2019 - PRESENT

A Campus Expert is a student trained to build a strong technical community, on campus. As well as training, Campus Experts have access to resources and support from GitHub, to build inclusive and collaborative communities.

I work together with technology bodies, lecturers and the Department of Computer Science at my University to enrich the technology communities on campus.

> Andela Learning Community, Africa — Learning Community Ambassador

JUNE 2019 - PRESENT

The Andela Learning Community is a network of people, technologists and tech enthusiasts across Africa dedicated to learning how to use technology to solve humanity's problems powered by Google, Andela, and Pluralsight.

I assist and mentor ALC 4.0 learners in the Mobile Web Track and set up, organize and champion ALC meetup centres in my community and communities nearest to me.

> Coding Coach, Worldwide — Mentor

MAY 2019 - PRESENT

Coding Coach is a free, open-source platform which aims to connect software developers and mentors all over the world and to make the engineering world a better place to collaborate.

I mentor beginners and intermediate developers and help them scale through imposter syndrome, fix bugs and grow towards becoming world-class.
